MARGREET HONIG FOUNDATION

The Margreet Honig Foundation (MHF), founded by renowned Dutch singing teacher Margreet Honig, aims to teach and share Margreet's successful vocal pedagogy and to preserve it for the future.

The MHF trains, inspires and connects classical singers and singing teachers from all over the world, based on Margreet's ideas and approach. The training courses given in the Netherlands and other European countries focus on the 'singing person'. Alongside singing lessons and collaborative teaching, these courses also include the study of breathing, meditation lessons, movement and drama. This holistic approach enables both professional singers and voice teachers to grow as human beings, helping them to practise their profession with joy and confidence at the highest level.

Are you able to support the MHF? Your contribution would help to pass on Margreet Honig's unique philosophy to future generations of singers and vocal teachers. In order to reach our goals, we rely very much on the generosity of our donors. If you felt able to make a donation, your help would be greatly appreciated.
