Teach the teacher

Maarten Koningsberger coaches a select group of singing teachers.

MHF STUDIO

BEING TAUGHT TO TEACH

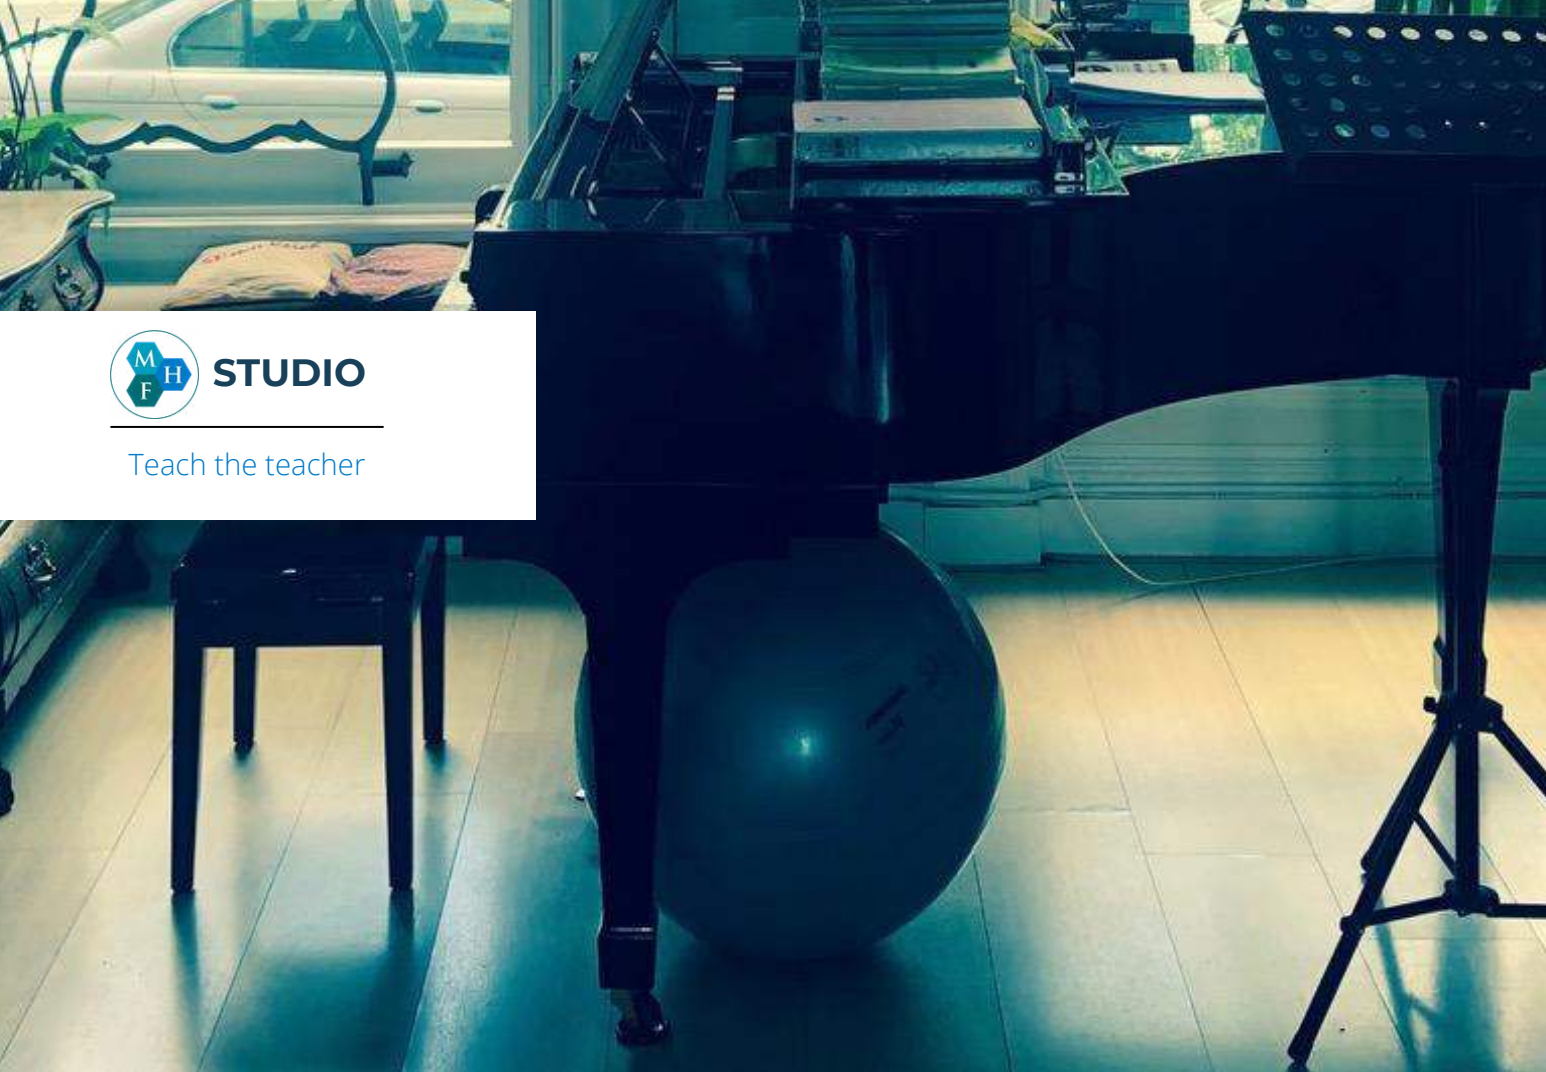

Each student is different. Teaching a healthy vocal technique takes time, patience, and a great deal of practice. Margreet Honig has dedicated her working life to teaching singers. In recent years, she has shifted her focus toward teaching teachers. Maarten Koningsberger, a lifelong student of Margreet, is an experienced singer and voice teacher. Together, they have led numerous courses and masterclasses. Participants in the MHF-Studio program develop their teaching skills under Maarten's guidance. Margreet will be a regular guest teacher in this program.

THE COURSE

The MHF-Studio offers nine sessions per curriculum year, during which small groups of teachers work with their own students and receive immediate feedback from Maarten. The sessions also include discussions of relevant literature. In the second year, we work with students from various Dutch conservatories. The MHF-Studio also invites guest teachers to address topics such as breathing and the anatomy of the voice.
